Inside our favorite splurge-worthy suites.

Lake Como's 98-room Grand Hotel Tremezzo introduces eight suites this summer on its new top floor. Each features a private terrace overlooking the lake, with Italian furnishings from Cassina and B&B Italia indoors. Our favorite: the Rooftop Penthouse, combining Front and Corner suites for a 1,190-square-foot residence with two bedrooms and no less than four Jacuzzis – two in the bathrooms and two on the additional 500 square feet of private terrace. A dedicated butler staffs the floor, available to decorate the whirlpool nightly with flower petals and candles or bring a bed to the terrace for a night under the stars. Rooftop Penthouse from $2,781, including in-suite check-in and welcome cocktails.

RIVIERA RAVE

Fashion designer Karl Lagerfeld depicts Ulysses' mythic journey in his latest commission, a 66-by-10-foot glass art wall for Hôtel Métropole Monte-Carlo's new pool deck that features bodies built for revealing togas. Slated to be unveiled at the 133-room hotel in July, the artwork is part of a renovation that will include a third Joël Robuchon restaurant next spring in digs also created by the Chanel designer. Doubles from $477, including breakfast daily, a $110 dining credit, access to the spa's Heat Experience circuit, and priority reservations at all restaurants and the spa.
